George C. Ramey, of Southern Railway, Alleged to Have Obstructed Liquor Search.

MOSBY'S MEN HOLD REUNION

Survivors of Famous Command Meet in Fredericksburg—Charlottesville Architect Becomes Baptist Minister—Grover Breeden Pardoned.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, Va., Sept. 22.—After deliberating for more than an hour a jury in the Corporation Court this evening acquitted George C. Ramey, a Southern Railway conductor, indicted for violation of the Mapp act by obstructing officers when about to search a fast southbound train for liquor last December. The court instructed the jury to eliminate all thought of a jail sentence. Ramey, Inspector of the Hall, a witness in the case, arrived when the instructions were being argued, explaining his previous absence by stating that he did not believe he was a material witness. His presence did not weaken the case. The prosecutor said police witnesses testified that Ramey, when shown the warrant, used an oath and said they would not search the Pullman. Then he locked the doors in their faces.

Testifying as to the reason why he went to such pains to balk prohibition officers from searching his train when it passed through here in January, Ramey said he was not a material witness. He said he was a few weeks before the episode which resulted in his arrest, he was taking young Ned Cross, a party of eighteen young men, to a dance. He was alone in a Pullman car and asleep when the train pulled into Danville. When he was getting his orders an officer, who he said he could not identify, made his way into the Pullman car with a revolver in one hand and a flashlight in the other and made a thorough search of the berth.

Continuing, he said the head nurse made a bitter complaint to him of the way the proceeding was handled and returned. The Commonwealth sought to offset the damage done by this testimony by asking him if he knew if the man who searched the berth was a material witness. Ramey answered that by saying that it could be none other than a prohibition officer, as such acts had never been perpetrated until such department came into being.

Police officers testified that Ramey was frequently brought into Danville on charges of violating the Mapp act. Police officers testified that Ramey was frequently brought into Danville on charges of violating the Mapp act. Mrs. W. H. Gooch Is Now a Stage Star Widow of Distiller Who Committed Suicide Is in Musical Comedy.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, Va., Sept. 22.—It became known here yesterday that Mrs. Margaret Radcliffe Gooch, widely related here and the widow of W. H. Gooch, of Charlottesville, a former distiller, who committed suicide while on his honeymoon in the Far West, is now on the stage and is touring the country in a musical comedy company in "Come Along" through the Southern States.

The information was conveyed in advice from Greensboro, N. C., where she appeared in a performance on Saturday night. She was recognized and later gave out an interview, in which she discussed the vicissitudes of the past few years, during which she has been preparing herself for a stage career.

Mrs. Gooch was in the limelight in Virginia during her litigation to secure a more ample portion of her husband's fortune. The fight was a bitter one, although it was taken to the last resort in the hope that she might win a more liberal share of her husband's earnings.

Mrs. Gooch met Robert Radcliffe, as she was known before marriage, was well known in Virginia and North Carolina. She was a daughter of Lexington, N. C., and was socially prominent. After losing her legal battle she went to New York where for some years she says she had a penurious condition while training for the stage. At one time she sold newspapers and worked in a hotel, and she was preparing for her career. She finally was included in one of the young comedies, but rapidly mounted until her talent was more specifically recognized.

The two counties at a meeting held here, unanimously nominated Thomas L. Hunter, of King George, as the candidate. No other name was considered. The nomination was made unanimously with much enthusiasm. Mr. Hunter was notified and came before the delegates and accepted the nomination in an appropriate speech.

In Field for State Senate.
FREDERICKSBURG, Sept. 22.—At a convention of Republicans held here, Dr. Lee Cooke, of this city, was nominated as the Republican candidate for the State Senate from this district, composed of the Counties of Stafford, Spotsylvania and city of Fredericksburg. The program for the day includes a parade, a banquet, a baseball game, a community sing in the evening and a block dance at night. This is planned as the greatest celebration ever held in Harrisonburg.

POPULAR MOTORMAN
WAS ALL RIN DOWN
William D. Adams, 2404 Chaffin Street, Richmond, Now Praising Plant Juice.
HAD BAD STOMACH TROUBLE
Claims Since Taking Plant Juice He Has Entirely Regained His Health.
Plant Juice, the new herbal system tonic being manufactured from medicinal plants, herbs, barks, berries and fibers, stands without a rival as a remedy for ills of the stomach, liver and kidneys. It often relieves indigestion and dyspepsia with the first dose.

One of the most interesting statements made relative to this medicine is that of Mr. William D. Adams, of No. 2404 Chaffin Street, a popular motorman in the employ of the R. P. & P. Co. of Richmond. He said:

"I have suffered with stomach trouble for the past 12 years, and I got so bad that no food agreed with me, and I had to live on milk and crackers and liquids most of the time. This kind of food did not relieve me of my suffering, and I would have terrible pains after eating. I got weak and all run down, and did not know what to do. Finally I heard of Plant Juice and decided to try it. I have only taken it for a short time, but am able now to eat all kinds of food and digest it. I sleep well at night and am feeling like my old self once more. I have a boy five years old who has not been well for some time. I was told that he had trouble with his stomach and kidneys. He had no appetite and was very nervous and restless at night. I gave him Plant Juice and he seems to have entirely recovered, as he has a fine appetite and does not complain any more. I am feeling the best I have in years and am glad to recommend Plant Juice to others."

Plant Juice is a vegetable preparation, extracted from the root, bark, berries and fibers of numerous medicinal plants. It is Nature's own remedy and works wonders. It gives immediate benefit and leads to permanent relief in almost every case where people suffer as above outlined.

Plant Juice cleanses, strengthens and revitalizes the entire system. It clears the blood of poisons and impurities, purifies the liver to work, strengthens the kidneys and tones up the digestive organs. It sharpens the appetite and promotes sound, restful sleep.

The Plant Juice Man is at The Tragle Drug Company's store in Richmond, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.
